OBJECTIVE

Over the past 15 years, every role I've undertaken across various technologies has contributed to honing my skills and staying abreast of the latest advancements in my core competencies. I am deeply passionate about advancing my expertise, tackling complex challenges, and staying at the forefront of innovation. I am actively seeking opportunities as a Full Stack Engineer that will enable me to continue this journey of professional growth.

Sr. SOFTWARE ENGINEER

PayPal India, Bangalore / July 2021 – present

- As a proficient Software Engineer, I have made substantial contributions to the pp.com team. During my tenure, I played a pivotal role in developing new features, implementing analytical tools, transitioning from a legacy system to a modern design system, and successfully sunsetting the existing legacy system without any customer impact.
- Overseeing the live deployment of code releases, ensuring thorough phase checks, stage testing, sandbox, and one-box testing for a seamless and comprehensive full release.
- Complementing my primary responsibilities, I actively participate in a rotational on-call cadence. In this capacity, I monitor live issues and promptly address them as necessary. This role has afforded me the chance to cultivate a profound understanding of the product and its user base, refining my skills in problem-solving and critical thinking.
- Overall, I take pride in my adeptness at collaborative teamwork and independent problem-solving. My commitment to excellence, combined with extensive technical skills and experience, positions me as a formidable candidate for any Software Engineering role.

Sr. FRONT END DEVELOPER (SME)

eClerx Service LTD, Mumbai / Nov 2017 – Jul 2021

- I have played a pivotal role in migrating legacy websites to modern platforms. Demonstrating my advanced skill set, I specialize in building reusable React components, conducting AB testing experiments, delivering personalized user experiences, and optimizing latency for improved page load performance.
- Utilizing my technical expertise, I have also taken on a mentorship role, guiding the team to deliver projects on time with a focus on quality. As a team leader, I facilitate the growth of each team member, empowering them to reach their full potential.
- In summary, my dedication to excellence, leadership, and mentorship makes me a valuable addition to any team. My extensive experience in migrating legacy products, conducting AB testing, and delivering personalized user experiences, coupled with robust technical skills, positions me as a strong subject matter expert.
