

PayPal Global Talent Acquisition is here to help

The PayPal Global Talent Acquisition team is here as an additional resource to assist you with navigating what may appear to be a complicated landscape as you prepare for career transition success.

As you are aware, we have partnered with RiseSmart, a leading talent mobility provider with substantial experience in career transition support and outplacement services. This partnership provides many benefits and will allow you to take advantage of a set of customized services, some of which include:

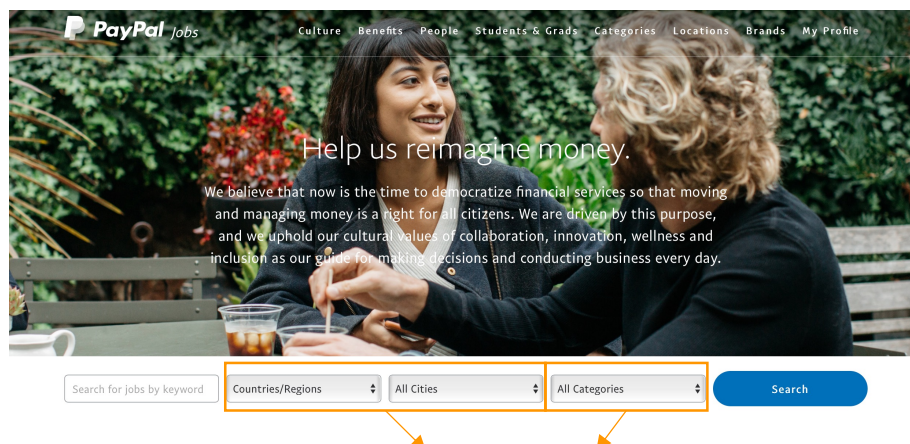

- Personalized career coaching
- Resume writing & LinkedIn profile enhancements
- Personal and professional branding advice
- Customized job leads
- Networking recommendations
- Talent directory participation*

If through the course of your search and/or consultation with your career coach you determine that you would like to explore other opportunities within PayPal – we are here to help!

When applying for PayPal job listings you should follow these steps to expedite processing and consideration for the open role.

1. Email a copy of your resume to our RiseSmart Relationship Manager, Lisa Barto (lisa.barto@randstadrisemart.com) and include the Job Requisition number in the email. Lisa will connect you with a PayPal GTA transition professional.
2. The GTA transition professional will assist you with navigation of the expedited process and answer any questions that you may have.

A current list of openings can be found on the PayPal Careers page at <https://www.paypal.com/jobs>.

Search by job categories and location

The Talent Directory is an online portal that is designed to assist companies with job openings to quickly locate available candidates based on location, skills and other qualification filters. Participation in this program is optional. Additional information and questions can be addressed by your career coach or the GTA transition professional.*
